Hebron Project Issue 10 - Quarter 3 2015

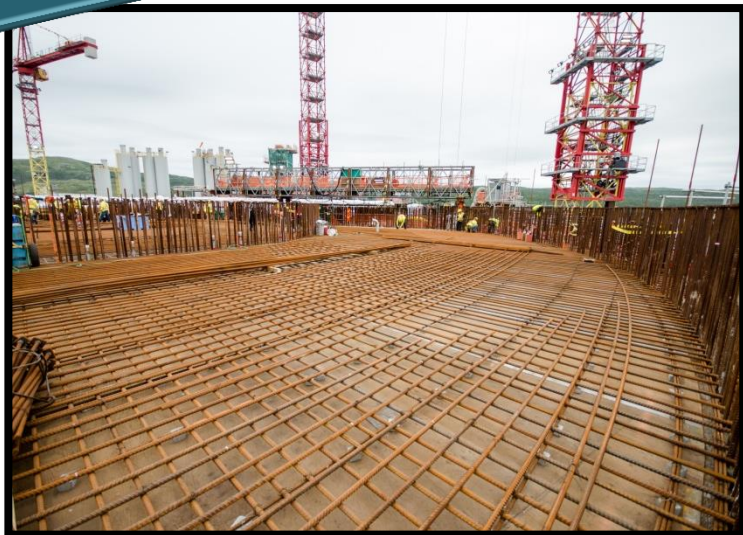

Arnold's Cove Green Team: Thinking Globally, Acting Locally

The Hebron Project was pleased to sponsor the Arnold's Cove Green Team this summer. Green Teams are an initiative of the Newfoundland and Labrador Conservation Corps, providing employment and training opportunities to the province's youth in environmental and cultural fields. The Arnold's Cove Green Team's focus this summer was "think globally, act locally". The Green Team displayed great energy and enthusiasm for all of their projects. They created brochures and held presentations with community groups on various environmental topics such as climate change, giant hogweed, and water conservation. They hosted a community beach cleanup, worked on beautifying the Bordeaux Walking Trail, created a community compost bin and hosted an information session to educate local area residents on composting. The Team worked with the local recreation program to involve younger children in repurposing milk cartons and plastic containers into bird feeders, and hand painting signage for the Bordeaux Walking Trail. Well done Brady, Jared, Kaitlyn and Tyler!
